

AMOS PROJECT SS22 – AUDIT CHAIN

PROJECT RETROSPECTIVE

Dear next generation of AMOS project's students,

First, we would like to tell you that the AMOS Project is one of the best experiences you will have at FAU, as it is a simulation of a real workplace. Below, we have listed our experience with its positives and negatives. We hope you have as much fun as we did! 😊

So, let's start with the positives of the Amos project. As we said, the biggest advantage of this course is that it prepares us for our future working environment, where most of us will be asked to work with new people and work in areas where we have no previous experience. In addition, it is important to learn to work in a coherent rhythm and pattern, as well as to communicate with other team members. The pace is so fast, you won't even know when the semester is over, trust us! Plus, you'll gain more knowledge, not only on the subject matter or the programming language you chose to work with (which some of you may not know so well), but also on the use and operation of GitHub. Finally, and the most important, you will meet new people from other countries, probably, and you exchange ideas, learning new ideas and culture, hang out together and have fun during the semester 🤗

However, as in any situation, life is not always so simply, and you may face difficulties during the semester and until you reach your goal. But the important thing is not to give up 🤝. As in our case, you may get frustrated along the way and feel that you are not good enough or that you do not have the necessary knowledge for the course. Communication and respect are the keys to a smooth-running team. It is a fact that communication will be difficult at times and opinions may clash but with patience and discussion everything can be resolved. Remember that the goal is the successful delivery of the project. Also, it is also advisable to have only one means of communication (eg WhatsApp or Discord etc) and do not forget to reply to the messages of your fellow students. Finally, it is true that some of you may end up doing more work than others, but don't fret because in the end you will have more experience.

To sum up, project will have upside-down, but we hope that you will enjoy it and in the end you will all gain more knowledge and experience, and of course you will make new friends. So, have fun and enjoy your time! 🙌

Best,

Team 2, Audit-Chain, AMOS Project SS22
